Title

The word marriage may have several meanings. Some people may consider it responsibility, and others it means real love and romantic life, and others still will consider it as new hope, new life, and a bright future. No one denies the importance of marriage: the most important value in this life is marriage and with marriage life will go on. But the concept of marriage ages is begun to change in recent years and new concept of marriage ages become to this generation. Young people in this generation start to take the idea of marriage to the early thirties, rather than early twenties. Despite the facts that life has become difficult and complex and young people need more time to realize the responsibility that lies on their shoulders, early marriage seem to be good decision, because it has many benefits for married couples and the community. Marriage means stability for both parties and reassurance of the soul and psychological comfort.

In the past, a boy or girl need less time than now to realize the responsibility that lays on their shoulders and that because the environment which they live and that made them feel more responsible about them self. In the past, people married at a young age and this was due to several reasons and the most important reason is that the life was so simple in a way the study at the university isn't the only solution for a bright future to earn money, but there were a lot of career opportunities in large companies like Ford and General Motor, which contributed to securing a decent life for them clothing and shelter, and this also contributed to encouraging young people to the idea of marriage. Also, in that time the teenager period doesn't stay for a long time because of the nature of community and how they raise their children in such way that made them feel the masculinity in early age which lead them to work or have more than one job which leads them to pass the teenager period in a good atmosphere that will make them bear the responsibility to be a person who is responsible to take care of them self and their families. It's also the same for the girls, girls pass through teenager period smoothly as is the case for boys and that because the way of how they community raise these girls which is a great role to reflect on the look of the Child, which contributes to free him from adolescence quickly and make it able to take responsibility towards himself and towards his family and the girls use to help their mother in household chores and that would make her bear the responsibility and gain life experience which will help them in future.

But these days, the idea of marriage does not come at an early age and if we note the default age of the marriage has become late year after year. However, there are factors that have helped this idea and the most important is that the life become complex than it was in the past, life become difficult because of the economic crisis, less job opportunities and it became difficult to get a job that will provide a good living. People don't have a lot of choices like in the past and they need to study and take high degree to find a job that will secure their life and it's hard to find job without studying and the only choice they have is to complete their study and that is different than in the past. In addition, young people of both genders does not feel the responsibility to rely on themselves and secure their own lives and they need more time to realize the responsibility that lies on their shoulders because they depend on their parents. Also, the fact of adolescence and it takes longer time than before and this is due to the family way of raising their children and also the society that helped to prolong the period of adolescence. Early marriage allows the individual to gain autonomy from the family. For example, young people want their own home and they will look for financial resources in order to provide for their new family, which will lead them to the status of an adult. Whenever a marriage was at an early age whenever the opportunity has become larger and most beautiful. It's become the largest because it's a promising with good future for both of them and they still in the prime of their youth and they are in front of a bright future to create a family and get children.

Moreover, early marriage will allow them time to have children in early and to educate their children and the difference in age between father and son must be not that much because it'll be harder to raise their child in good environment which based on understanding and dialogue. For example, having children in early age will enable them to raise their children at younger ages so that they can keep up with the times and to be at the same level of their children generation and they can understand each other's more using the understanding and dialogue. Father at the age of forty and the child still in the age of ten, it would be difficult for both of them to understand each other and that's because the great difference in age between them. In addition, having children at an early age will protect their children from disease and they will have healthy body, because at that time the parent will be a in their strong healthy body. As a result of this they will get healthy children in full strengths. But, if parents are old, their children may suffer from hereditary diseases and as a result of that they will have children with weakness body.

Although, early marriage contributes to the construction of family and responsibility early on and allows for parents raising their children in the right way, early marriage will prevent them from falling into adultery and having sex before marriage is forbidden in many religions because of the damage left on people and society. Getting married in early age will avoid them from psychological impact. Actually, there is nothing wrong to be one person the whole of your life.

In conclusion, early age is the most beautiful age to get married because they do still enjoy the beauty and strength and health of their body as young people and they must exploit this force and this health to enjoy in marriage, instead of later marriage, which accompanied with many of the diseases that may disturb their lives and it will affect their children health. Getting married and having family will allow them to feel and gain the responsibility in early time which it'll end up as helpful point in their life. Whatever the circumstance of life is difficult and arduous and tiring, marriage contributes to the resolution of these circumstances.
